Dear Matt:

You and I disagree as to whether it was appropriate for you to register the decoderpro.com domain for your own use.

We have been using "DecoderPro" as a software name for four years, and 10's of thousands of people associate that name with our software. You were aware of this when you registered the domain. We have claimed "DecoderPro" as our trademark, and are in the process of registering it.

I would like to resolve our dispute over the decoderpro.com name amicably, in order to prevent significant costs and bad publicity.

To that end, I offer to reimburse your registration costs and reasonable DNS costs for that domain since you registered it on February 22, 2004, in return for you transferring the decoderpro.com domain name to me.

My registrant ID is:

Sponsoring Registrar:easyDNS Technologies Inc. (R1247-LROR)
Registrant ID:tuPPG1cpUBzLkAZh
Registrant Name:Robert Jacobsen
Registrant Country:US

The courtesy of a reply by December 6th is requested.

Sincerely

Bob Jacobsen
